

THOUSANDS OF MEN ARE LOST BY KAISER WITHOUT ANY GAIN

LONDON, November 2.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—Official reports from Paris last night say there is no change in the general situation, but that heavy fighting is taking place at various points along the line.

The Germans in Flanders are no nearer their goal on the coast than they were a week ago, when they began their violent assaults. Their losses have been tremendous.

VIOLENT ATTACKS ARE REPULSED

At Lihons, on the Aisne River, and at Bois de la Grurie, in the Argonne forest, the Germans made violent attacks yesterday, which were repulsed.

North of Mouain the French report slight progress against the enemy.

Fighting continues in the Vosges Mountains, the French reporting the capture of the heights of Versinnes de Sainte Marie during an offensive movement against the Germans.

INUNDATIONS HAMPER GERMAN OPERATIONS

Berlin reports officially that the operations in Belgium have been rendered difficult owing to the inundations of the Yser River and Ypres canal by the Allies, who destroyed the sluices at Nieuport.

This despatch reports German progress near Lille.

REPORTS CONTRADICTIONARY

LONDON, November 2.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—Conflicting statements regarding the operations in East Prussia are contained in official reports from the Russian and German governments.

Russia claims the success of the operations against the Germans and Austrians in an official announcement, which says that beyond the Vistula River the Russian forces are advancing all along the entire front in Galicia.

Petrograd also states that the Russian forces are making progress in East Prussia, and that the German attacks which have been repulsed for five days in the region of Bakalarzewo have ceased entirely.

The Germans lost heavily in their attacks along this fortified line.

While Russia is reporting victories, the official announcement from Berlin yesterday again says that the battle against the Russians is still undecided.

ROHILLA VICTIMS RESCUED

WHITBY, England, November 2.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—Fifty persons, the remainder of the survivors of the wrecked British hospital ship Rohilla were rescued yesterday from the wreckage to which they were clinging. This makes the total number saved 146. It is believed fifty-four lives were lost.

GERMANS FIGHT FIERCELY BUT TSINGTAU IS DOOMED

Tokyo, November 2.—(Associated Press by Commercial Cable)—The war office announces that a desperate battle is now in progress at Tsingtau. The Japanese and British warships, which have partially destroyed the sea-coast defending forts, are now able to approach close enough to throw shells into the city, and the shipyards, gas reservoirs and houses are in flames as a result of the bombardment. The artillery of the investing force has been moved up close to the German lines and is covering the rushes of the infantry troops towards the Defenders' lines. The Germans are strongly entrenched and are offering a fierce resistance. The reports indicate that the final assault is now under way.

ROCKEFELLER MILLIONS FOR WAR RELIEF

NEW YORK, November 2.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., announces that the Rockefeller Foundation will employ its immense resources for the relief of non-combatants in the countries afflicted by war. The directors have gone over the situation thoroughly and have determined to give millions of dollars, if necessary, for this great work of humanity. Already a ship has been chartered and loaded with provisions for the relief of the destitute and starving Belgian refugees. A commission will be sent to Europe within a few days to learn where aid is needed most.

MYSTERY IN HARBOR SITUATION

A HURRIED conference was held at midnight between Collector of the Port Malcolm A. Franklin, Deputy Collector Raymer Sharp and Japanese Consul-General Arita. Collector Franklin was in communication with the wireless station at the Navy Yard at eleven-thirty o'clock. Several messages were exchanged between there and the Alexander Young hotel, where Mr. Franklin is staying. Following these messages, Mr. Sharp arrived at the hotel and in an automobile a hurried trip was made to the Japanese consulate. Upon their return, the two officials went immediately to the cable office and a lengthy message was sent, presumably to Washington. When seen afterwards at the hotel Mr. Franklin said that it was absolutely impossible to give out any information as to the nature of the conference.

SUBMARINE MANEUVERS WILL TEST AIRSHIPS

The largest fleet of submarines ever assembled by the navy will take part in the maneuvers off the Florida coast this coming winter. It is intended to assemble the entire equipment of submarines. Six new submarines are expected to be completed and in commission by the time of the maneuvers. In all, there will be twenty-four boats. The fleet will be under the command of Commander Yates Stirling, Jr., and it is intended that the operations of the aviation branch of the navy shall take place at the same time. Fleet formations of the little craft will be worked out before the end of the season. Commander Stirling will have for his chief of staff, Lieutenant J. R. Morrison, now at the training station at Newport, Rhode Island.

Although no wireless communications have been received by the local quartermaster's office as to the probable arrival of the transport Logan, the vessel is expected to arrive next Wednesday.

McCarthy Takes Office and Official Heads Begin to Fall

COL. C. J. MCCARTHY

Territorial Treasurer Fires Cupid Barrere in Broadside of Polysyllables

(From Sunday Advertiser.)

Half an hour after Col. Charles J. McCarthy took office yesterday as territorial treasurer he wrote a letter, and that letter removed, "Cupid" Frank M. Barrere, Honolulu's only marriage license agent, from office for cause. The removal was peremptory. Barrere quit his official position pronto on the receipt of the letter, but was informed later by the treasurer that he would be permitted to issue marriage licenses until his successor is appointed. And thus wrote the new territorial member of Governor Pinkham's cabinet:

Dictionary Talk

"I am advised that you have deliberately, despite the advice of your superiors, declined to cooperate with the United States immigration authorities, refused to attend to your duties at the immigration station, and have thereby embarrassed those officials and imperiled the correctness of their records of marriage, and have unduly magnified your official personality to the annoyance of all concerned."

Interrupted Bliss

Barrere noted receipt of this letter at twenty minutes to two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Five minutes after that a Japanese couple applied for a license to lawfully wed. Barrere refused, but explained:

"Funny kind of these Democrats," said the prospective bridegroom, while his inamorata agreed with a wise nod of the head. "Suppose Republican in job we marry any time; now Democrat he get in and too much pikia. I wish election Tuesday make clean sweep for Republicans, anyhow."

"Cupid" Barrere telephoned to his new master.

"There is a couple here to get a license, but you have fired me," Barrere says he told Colonel McCarthy. "Who's got the job now? If it's my last official act, I'll inform the waiting couple where to seek what they want."

No Successor

Barrere says that the treasurer told him there was no new marriage license agent yet; that Barrere was still on the job and would be until Monday, when his successor would likely be appointed.

"I rather like the tone of Mr. McCarthy's letter," said Barrere yesterday, "but I don't agree with what he says in regard to the advice of my superiors. I really don't know who these superiors are. I don't have to cooperate with the federal immigration authorities, and I don't know who one Richard L. Halsey is, officially or otherwise, so far as my membership in the territorial family is concerned."

"Before my former superior, Dr. Lloyd Conkling, left for Washington and New York he informed me that I might go to the federal immigration station if it suited my convenience. I did that on several occasions, but got tired cooling my heels around there until the marriage bureau people there were ready for business."

"Some time ago Halsey told me that he would send some thirty couples up to my office for licenses to wed. That seemed agreeable and I consented. Later he telephoned me and asked me if I was not going down to that hot section of the town. I was busy, and said he had agreed to send the loving ones to my office. They came and I served the whole bunch."

"I am really sorry that I have thereby embarrassed those officials and imperiled the correctness of their records of marriage, and it tickles me that I have unduly magnified my official personality to the annoyance of all concerned. I did not know I was that important."

Barrere is ready to turn his office and official documents over to his successor as soon as Treasurer McCarthy finds one to take over the big job.

Palmer Woods Has Not Yet Sent Reply To Office of Job As 'Cupid'

(From Sunday Advertiser.)

Promptly at half-past twelve o'clock yesterday afternoon Territorial Treasurer D. Lloyd Conkling turned over his office to his successor, Col. Charles J. McCarthy, whose hand is the sum of $100,000, with the Pacific Coast Casualty Company as surety, had been filed a short time previously.

There was but little formality in the inducing into office of Treasurer McCarthy by his predecessor. They shook hands and Mr. Conkling presented Colonel McCarthy to Deputy Treasurer Henry C. Hapai and the other employees of the office. Treasurer McCarthy assured the staff that there would be no changes whatever, unless there were brought about in the future for cause.

Heads Off, First Thing.

Treasurer McCarthy's first official act upon assuming office was to approve the appointment of Tim B. Lyons as deputy treasurer of the district of Wailuku, Maui. James N. K. Koola resigned recently as deputy assessor of that district and Assessor Joseph H. Kuewa appointed Lyons, subject to the treasurer's approval, which was given yesterday. The commission was mailed in the steamer Mauna Kea which left at three o'clock for Lahaina and Hilo.

McCarthy's next official act was to fire "Cupid" Barrere "for cause," the main cause being that he had offered the job a week ago to Palmer P. Woods.

Shies at Playing Cupid.

Treasurer McCarthy said to The Advertiser yesterday that two weeks ago he offered the position of marriage license agent, now held by "Cupid" Frank M. Barrere, to Palmer P. Woods, who recently was a candidate for delegate to congress in opposition to "Link" McCarthy. Up to yesterday Mr. Woods had failed to notify Colonel McCarthy whether or not he would accept the offer. Woods has a hunch that the job will last only until the legislature can lam it out of existence.

Only One Applicant

Touching upon probable changes in the three departments of the territorial treasury under his charge, the new treasurer said yesterday that he had received only one application from Oahu and that was from a young Hawaiian who would like to hold down the job of stenographer in the treasurer's office recently vacated through the resignation of Miss Edith Treadway. The treasurer has not yet taken action in this respect.

As regards the outside islands Colonel McCarthy said that he had at hand a number of applications, one from a Hawaiian man, believed to be Oliver P. Shipman of Hilo, former Hawaii county supervisor from Kaa, for assessor of the island of Hawaii in place of the incumbent, Robert T. Forrest. Another Hawaiian man wants a deputy assessorship on the island and so do five or six, one of whom has already been appointed, as stated above, and one on Kauai.

There Might Be

Regarding these applications the new treasurer was non-committal yesterday, although he inferred that there might not be any further changes.

Treasurer McCarthy's commission was signed by Governor Pinkham yesterday and is for a term of four years, dating from October 31. It is subject to confirmation, however, by the next senate, which may take action on Governor Pinkham's appointments at any time during the session from the third Wednesday in February when the legislature meets, until the adjournment, sine die, late in April of next year.

M'CARN IS PAU NOVEMBER 15TH

His Resignation Is On File In Office of the Attorney General

The Advertiser is going to prejudice the result of the election to be held in Honolulu on Tuesday, on what side or with what effect this paper knows not. That the news here given is going to prejudice something we know. We have the word of J. McCarn for it.

It is this: The Honorable J. McCarn, in response to a curt notification from the attorney general of the United States that his resignation, "for the good of the service," was wanted, took his pen in hand and cabled the resignation, to take effect November 15. To show just how he regards himself in real relation to the rest of Hawaii, McCarn added this touching postscript to his cable:

Delay the Sad News

"Advisable my resignation be not accepted before November 15 because it would prejudice election in Hawaii also my trial."

But now that The Advertiser has spilled the beans, the election will have to be prejudiced.

The wording of the McCarn cable of resignation comes to The Advertiser from Washington, and it is correct. The attorney general, on October 12, was notified by cable from McCarn that, because of "perjury and prejudice," he had not been able to get a square deal from the court and jury, and as a consequence his trial had resulted in a disagreement.

For Good of the Service

The attorney general considered this for four days, then cabled McCarn to resign, "for the good of the service," plainly showing him to be one of the conspirators. McCarn took about twenty minutes to think of the awful effect

MOSLEMS DEFINITELY CAST THEIR LOT WITH AUSTRIA AND KAISER

LONDON, November 2.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—Turkey has definitely thrown her lot with Austria and Germany in the present war.

The British note which was presented to Turkey on Friday, and which demanded an explanation of the actions of the Turkish Black Sea fleet, was really an ultimatum requiring a reply by Saturday evening.

No answer was received from the Turkish government. It is understood here that the ambassadors of the Triple Entente at Constantinople have demanded and received their passports.

OTTOMAN TROOPS CROSS EGYPTIAN FRONTIER

It is reported that Turkish troops have already crossed the Egyptian frontier, while the Turkish fleet continues to menace Russian towns and shipping in the Black Sea.

The Allies are prepared for war with Turkey. The greatest problem with England and Russia is the attitude of their Moslem subjects who ordinarily prefer not to fight their Turkish co-religionists.

A grave situation exists in the Balkan states. It is understood that Bulgaria objects to fighting on the side of Greece and Serbia, who defeated her in their recent war. Should Bulgaria join the Germans it is almost certain that Roumania will declare for the Allies and enter the conflict. Greece is expected to take further revenge upon Turkey.

ITALY DRAWS NEARER TO WAR

Italy is brought much nearer being drawn into the war by the entrance of Turkey on the side of Germany. Trouble between Italy and Turkey over the Italian possessions in the Mediterranean hardly will be avoidable.

Berlin publishes an official report from Turkey which accuses the Russians of beginning hostilities by firing upon a portion of the Turkish fleet on October 28.

Russian Consuls Held As Hostages

WASHINGTON, November 2.—(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)—United States Ambassador Morgenthau cables the State department from Constantinople that Turkey has announced that Russian consuls will not be permitted to leave the country until Russia has given assurances that Turkish consuls in Russia will be given safe conduct.

England and France have placed their Turkish interests in the hands of the American embassy.

The Turkish consul in Havre, France, has turned the consulate at that city over to the American consul, and is preparing with the other Turkish consuls in France to leave the country.

Turkey Expected To Enter War

In view of the importance of the announcement of Turkey's action in entering the European war, a letter furnished The Advertiser yesterday by a member of the local Turkish colony contains much significant information.

As this letter was written in Smyrna nearly a month ago, it is evident that Turkey had been preparing for some time to go to war against the Allies.

The Ottoman Empire evidently is staking everything on a desperate attempt to regain its former power in Europe by forming an alliance with Germany and Austria, and the understanding with Germany has caused Turkey to allow the Germans the active direction of their military and naval campaigns.

IMMENSE ARMY IS MOBILIZED

The letter follows:

"Preparations are being made by the Turkish government for mobilizing a large army, consisting of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 men, apparently for the purpose of assisting Germany. All the reserves have been called to their colors, and are pouring into this city from all parts of Asia Minor. All Turkish subjects, including Greeks, Armenians and Jews, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five are being drafted for military service. Those who were spared during the last Balkan war are now being recruited for active service. No such war-like preparations have ever been witnessed in Turkey during the last forty years.

"It is believed here that all drilling of the soldiers is under the guidance of German army officers, and German commands are used in maneuvering. Many stores and all the banks are closed. Banks refuse to pay the depositors. Food is very dear. Misery and despair is rampant. Many of the department stores and factories have laid off their employees. The distribution of mail is very irregular, especially through the foreign postoffice.

CHRISTIANS IN GREAT DANGER

"In case Turkey becomes involved in the European embroglio, there will be more people dying of starvation than on the battlefield, but it seems as though the civilian's right of living does not interest the Ottoman Empire at the present stage of the political camp. The Christian population of Turkey are in a great danger of being massacred. It is time for the United States to take a hand in this game for the protection of not only the American citizens, but the whole Christian population of Turkey.

"Let the American people not forget the days of 94-96 when 300,000 Armenians were massacred by the regulars of the Turkish army of 1909 the massacre of Adana (Asia Minor)."

this news would have upon the results of the November 3 polling and indicted his message, resigning on and after November 15.

Bystanders are requested to attend the announcement of the voting on Tuesday evening before The Advertiser office, where the returns are to be shown. There they may observe the effects of the prejudice that McCarn has striven so unselfishly and so humbly to avert.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS.

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. Made by PARIS MEDICINE CO., Saint Louis U. S. of A.

DISTINGUISHED SON OF HAWAII IS DEAD

Rear Admiral Thomas H. Stevens, third, retired, who died in Washington, D. C., on October 10, is the officer who commanded the naval battalion at the time of the raising of the United States flag in Hawaii. He was at that time executive officer of the flagship Philadelphia, and the only native of Hawaii holding a commission in the United States Navy.

Rear Admiral Stevens was the son of Rear Admiral Thomas H. Stevens, second, United States Navy, and a grandson of Capt. Thomas H. Stevens, who served with Perry on Lake Erie.
